Hello Mr. Shroeder, my name is Christopher Knight and I am a student at WWU.

I am currently putting together a short documentary concerning the environmental impacts the proposed SSA terminal will have on the 'Salish Sea,' or more specifically Bellingham Bay.

Barbara Brenner on the Whatcom City Council gave me your contact info when I came in to express my opinions during a council meeting. Unfortunately no real discussion could be had in that setting.

I would love to film a short interview with you about the environmental impacts that you an your team have been researching.

Thanks, and hope to hear from you soon.

COMMUNITYWISE BELLINGHAM REPORT SERIES

Reminder:
Please join us for a briefing by Public Financial Management, Inc. on the release of their report:

“The Impact of the Development of the Gateway Pacific Terminal on the Whatcom County Economy.”

Tuesday, March 6th from 9:30 to 10:30 AM
Leopold Ballroom, 1224 Cornwall Street, Bellingham, WA.

Please RSVP to: sandypratt738@gmail.com

About the Communitywise Bellingham Report Series
This report is the first in a series of studies that have been commissioned by Communitywise Bellingham. The series is guided by an interest in providing a solid base for careful consideration of impacts which Bellingham and Whatcom communities may experience from the Gateway Pacific Terminal. At the end of last summer, each member of the Bellingham City Council was consulted to identify his or her top priorities for information related to the GPT proposal. A better understanding of the project’s possible economic impacts was at the top of everyone’s list. We are pleased to begin our report series to the City with this comprehensive economic analysis. The bulk of the study provides data-rich insights into our local economy. It also provides a framework for evaluating how the GPT could interact with our future economic growth.

About Public Financial Management, Inc.
Founded in 1975, PFM is the nation’s largest independent financial advisor to local and state governments, and is consistently among the top-ranked independent financial advisory firms in the nation. The PFM Group currently employs more than 400 professionals serving a broad base of clients from offices located in every region of the country.

Hello Tyler:

I am still trying to get clarification from DNR on their interpretation that the unpermitted falling of trees, vegetation clearing, and grading activities did not meet the definition of conversion. I have had good communications with Rich Sluss and Sue Casey on this issue; however, it still is not clear to me how these unpermitted activities were not conversion based on WAC 222-16-010 which states:

"Conversion activities" means activities associated with conversions of forest land to land uses other than commercial timber operation. These activities may be occurring during or after timber harvest on forest land. They may include but are not limited to the following:

* Any of, or any combination of, the following activities in preparation for nonforestry use of the land: Grading, filling, or stump removal."

* Preparation for, or construction of, any structure requiring local government approval."

I understand that you met with DNR slightly before August 15, 2011 (see below). Could you inform me on the outcome of that meeting if it helps me to understand DNR's interpretation?

Tyler,
So that I don't forget, I'd like to contact Bellingham HS and get OK to visit the cafeteria tomorrow afternoon. The contact for that would be appreciated.
Also, Katie Skipper (Ecology media person) can join our meeting tomorrow to discuss the visuals that she was going to develop (a flow chart, but there's probably need for more).
See you tomorrow at 9:30. Thanks, Jane

Hello James,
You are correct on the date and time of the informative presentation that we will be hosting with the other co-lead agencies in a few weeks. I am not able to answer your question, but have directed this email to Tyler who will work with the other agencies to get an answer to you.

Dear Ms. Drake,

I understand from county emails that there will be a "pre-scoping" meeting regarding the SSA Marine permit application at Bellingham High School on March 20th from 6 to 8 PM.

I am writing to inquire about the appropriate process by which interested citizens can set up informational and educational exhibits at the venue, regarding the application. Obviously, this must be done in a manner that does not in any way interfere with the business of the meeting.

Thanks,

Related: I understand that the 8 to 9 portion of your meeting is a time allowance so that you can clear up the meeting setup. I am interested in holding a meeting immediately after yours, in the same venue with the same setup.

Are you willing to end your rental as soon as the county's business is concluded rather than taking the extra time for cleanup, if we promise to do all of the clearing up for you? I assume this would save the county money due to reduced rental time and saving the labor of doing the cleanup.

I understand that we would have to make separate rental arrangements with BHS for the additional time.

Thanks,

Tyler,
I will work with Jane when she calls...but wanted to let you know that I called my contact with the school district: the Theater Jane is speaking about does hold quite a lot (750), but that it costs about $160/hour (as opposed to the $20/hour that we have the commons for).

Any thoughts?

Dear Mr. Schroeder,

Hi Tyler,

In the Cascadia Weekly, you mentioned that County staff are keeping track of their time for the Gateway Pacific project, and I'm hoping that you can provide me with that ledger. I know that the County would prefer not to spend time on public record requests, and I don't want to burden it with such a request when I don't have to.

I was thinking of putting together an estimate of staff time based on public records -- MAP team meeting, site visits, presentations, meetings, phone calls, e-mails. That would undoubtedly just reflect the tip of the iceberg, though, and your records would be much more accurate.

I'm glad that that County will be able to recover its sunk costs as well as its costs moving forward, and am looking forward to hearing more about how that can be accomplished.

Ken, I included you on this message after reading your e-mail of about a year ago, raising the issue of recovering costs for this project with Tyler, Dewey and the County Executive. Thought that you might be interested in following up

Thanks, Tyler, for getting back to me. Yes, it would be great to meet with you next week. I've had some additional correspondence with Sue Casey, DNR Forest Practice Coordinator. I'm trying to understand the basis of DNR's interpretation in this case. The following are some of the questions I hope to ask Ms. Casey.

Cheers,

Oliver

"Again, I appreciate your willingness to inform me on the basis of DNR's determination that the unpermitted clearing and grading activities at the GPT site were not conversion. Although I have a better understanding of DNR's decision-making process in this case, the interpretations appear not to "square" with 1) definitions that dictate/guide DNR in processing forest practices and 2) other DNR actions and decisions I have observed. A little more detail:

1) Why doesn't DNR use the definition of "conversion activities" in processing this case (WAC 222-16-010)? Certainly, the unpermitted activities were "in preparation for nonforestry use..." and "preparation for any structure requiring local government approval." The WAC definition is more specific to how DNR conducts business while the RCW (76.09.020(8) is more legislative, less regulatory. Isn't the WAC definition more in line with the DNR regulatory program than the RCW definition? Further, there are two valid development permits for the GPT project that were applied for in 1992 and issued in 1998. I understand that GPT could still act on those permits, but instead they choose to reapply for permits for a larger development project. Doesn't the fact that there are two active valid development permits on the property connected with the recent applications submitted and the geotechnical activities that are "in preparation for nonforestry use", or "in preparation for construction of any structure requiring local government approval" equate to conversion activities? It is interesting to note that the definition of forest land is inconsistent with the definition of conversion activities (WAC 222-16-010). The forest land definition including "...not being actively used..." is not consistent with "activities in preparation for nonforestry use" and "preparation for, or construction of, any structure requiring local government approval" in the WAC definitions. Can you cite or direct me to specific DNR policies or guidance on how such unpermitted clearing and grading activities are not considered conversion?

2) Formally, I was the Natural Resources Manager for Whatcom County Planning and Development Services where I would routinely process development moratoriums based on DNR's declaration of unpermitted forest land conversion. As such, I am somewhat familiar with DNR's past consistency of interpretation of conversion activities. DNR's interpretation of the GPT case appears inconsistent with past cases that were of greatly reduced scope from, but of similar context to, the GPT case, but were nevertheless determined by DNR to be conversions. As such, my concerns about DNR's interpretations on the GPT case also relate to consistency of DNR's interpretations and decisions, and the transparency of such decisions.

Finally, why would an interpretation and decision about whether unpermitted clearing and grading occurs and the important ramifications of such be documented in an Informal Conference Note? I have been told by DNR staff that the notes in an ICN are non-binding. Is this so? Is there an appeal process for a non-binding declaration such as conversion?

Any further enlightenment you can provide me on this case would be greatly appreciated so that I can report back to the MAP team on this issue as I was tasked to do."
Oliver,

This email is a follow up to your last email in regards to DNR decision that the SSA clearing was not defined as "conversion." Attached are two correspondence that I received from the meetings with DNR and SSA. It sounds like you may have a couple of additional questions in regards to this situation. Let's schedule some time in the coming week or two to meet at our office and discuss further.

Tyler

Hello Jane:
I have received word from the BHS drama department that the theater would be available for your use on March 20th. Our building tech advisor is also available that evening to work the event. I have cc'd Olivia Kennedy so she is aware that the request has been OK'd. Let me know if any questions arise.

Heidi,
Thanks for answering questions about BHS space options. We would like to reserve the theater for the Mar 20 meeting (5-9; mtg is 6-8) if that is possible. I will follow-up on this but wanted to get request sent.

Jana,

Yes, the letter sent to Whatcom County from the City of Mount Vernon is on the record. Once the application is submitted for the proposed Gateway Pacific Terminal, we will be compiling the official "party of record" list for all application/SEPA notifications. I will also ensure that your email is on our contact list for the project.

Tyler

Applications and notifications — Policy.

(1) No Class II, III or IV forest practices shall be commenced or continued unless the department has received a notification for Class II forest practices, or approved an application for Class III or IV forest practices pursuant to the act. Where the time limit for the department to act on the application has expired, and none of the conditions in WAC 222-20-020(1) exist, the operation may commence. (NOTE: OTHER LAWS AND RULES AND/OR PERMIT REQUIREMENTS MAY APPLY: SEE CHAPTER 222-50 WAC.)

(2) The department shall prescribe the form and contents of the notification and application, which shall specify what information is needed for a notification, and the information required for the department to approve or disapprove the application.

(3) Except as provided in subpart (4) below, applications and notifications shall be signed by the landowner, the timber owner and the operator, or the operator and accompanied by a consent form signed by the timber owner and the landowner. A consent form may be another document if it is signed by the landowner(s) and it contains a statement acknowledging that he/she is familiar with the Forest Practices Act, including the provisions dealing with conversion to another use (RCW 76.09.060(3)).

(4) In lieu of a landowner's signature, where the timber rights have been transferred by deed to a perpetual owner who is different from the forest landowner, the owner of perpetual timber rights may sign a forest practices application or notification for operations not converting to another use and the statement of intent not to convert for a set period of time. The holder of perpetual timber rights shall serve the signed forest practices application or notification and the signed statement of intent on the forest landowner. The forest practices application shall not be considered complete until the holder of perpetual timber rights has submitted evidence acceptable to the department that such service has occurred.

(5) Where an application for a conversion is not signed by the landowner or accompanied by a consent form, as outlined in subsection (3) of this section, the department shall not approve the application. Applications and notifications for the development or maintenance of utility rights of way shall not be considered to be conversions.

(6) Transfer of the approved application or notification to a new landowner, timber owner or operator requires written notice by the former landowner or timber owner to the department and should include the original application or notification number. This written notice shall be in a form acceptable to the department and shall contain an affirmation signed by the new landowner, timber owner, or operator, as applicable, that he/she agrees to be bound by all conditions on the approved application or notification. In the case of a transfer of an application previously approved without the landowner's signature the new timber owner or operator must submit a bond securing compliance with the requirements of the forest practices rules as determined necessary by the department. If an application or notification indicates that the landowner or timber owner is also the operator, or an operator signed the application, no notice need be given regarding any change in subcontractors or similar independent contractors working under the supervision of the operator of record.

(7) Applications and notifications, if complete, will be considered officially received on the date and time shown on any registered or certified mail receipt, or the written receipt given at the time of personal delivery, or at the time of receipt by general mail delivery. The department will immediately provide a dated receipt to the applicant. Applications or notifications that are not complete, or are inaccurate will not be considered officially received until the applicant furnishes the necessary information to complete the application.

(a) A review statement from the U.S. Forest Service that evaluates compliance of the forest practices with the CRGNSA special management area guidelines is necessary information for an application or notification within the CRGNSA special management area. The review statement requirement shall be waived if the applicant can demonstrate the U.S. Forest Service received a complete plan application and failed to act within forty-five days.

(b) An environmental checklist (WAC 197-11-315) is necessary information for all Class IV applications.
(c) A local governmental entity clearing and/or grading permit is necessary information for all Class IV applications on lands that have been or will be converted to a use other than commercial timber production or on lands which have been platted after January 1, 1960, as provided in chapter 58.17 RCW, if the local governmental entity has jurisdiction and has an ordinance requiring such permit.

(d) A checklist road maintenance and abandonment plan is necessary information for all small forest landowners' applications or notifications for timber harvest (including salvage), unless exempt under WAC 222-24-0511, or unless the application is a small forest landowner long-term application which requires a roads assessment.

(8) An operator's name, if known, must be included on any forest practices application or notification. The landowner or timber owner must provide notice of hiring or change of operator to the department within forty-eight hours. The department shall promptly notify the landowner if the operator is subject to a notice of intent to disapprove under WAC 222-46-070. Once notified, the landowner will not permit the operator, who is subject to a notice of intent to disapprove, to conduct the forest practices specified in the application or notification, or any other forest practices until such notice of intent to disapprove is removed by the department.

(9) Financial assurances may be required by the department prior to the approval of any future forest practices application or notification to an operator or landowner under the provisions of WAC 222-46-090.

Subject: Re: GPT Proposals

Tyler-

I am sorry I will not be able to attend the meeting on Wednesday on evaluating EIS contractor proposals. I am sending you my thoughts on issues and questions that you may use in interviewing and evaluating potential contractors for their ability to assess the health impacts of the proposed project.

First, a question about the contractor evaluation and ranking procedure. I notice that each criteria has a review code (0-3). Are the rankings going to be by total points, or does the procedure provide for some weighting or for some minimal acceptable scores in specific areas? My concern is that human health analysis is one of twenty-five general and topical criteria, and a zero score would not significantly affect the ranking for a contractor with strong engineering and standard environmental experience and resources.

I understand that the contractor is responsible for managing the scoping process, and that this list of questions and issues may read like a scoping document. Although we will hire a contractor to facilitate scoping, we all scope on our own, filling in a framework of potential risks and effects. The formal scoping process both adds to the framework and prunes the issues as the risk of potential impacts are quantified and their significance determined. Our impression is that NEPA and SEPA address human health impacts in a wider framework than is usually addressed in EIAs. Although there is more data on exposure to toxins and dose-related health effects, the less direct impacts of stress and social disruption on health make be as or more significant. In addition, the question of health impacts of climate change and mercury deposition from coal burning will need to be addressed.

In reviewing the non-health topics, I see that several have human health aspects, both direct and indirect, and I would like to be sure that they are addressed in the questioning of the contractors. The mechanisms by which the proposed project could impact health fall into several major categories, with some overlap.

In the interviews with potential contractors, I would like that they are asked how they propose to address the following:

1) Exposure to toxins: (dust, fumes, particulates, fire retardants, oxidation inhibitors, others) - possible effects include cancer, cardiovascular disease, asthma, other chronic lung diseases

2) Delayed access to emergency services: (traffic delays) - possible effects include an increase in emergency medical, police, or fire response time and also may decrease value of affected area and increase social disruption, leading to stress-related health effects.

3) Stress and sleep disruption: (noise, vibration, social disruption) - possible effects include cardiovascular and psychiatric disorders.

4) Social disruption: (traffic delays, noise, vibration, dust) - if areas become less desirable places to live or work, the socioeconomic status of remaining residents or new residents may decline, the property values decrease, and if emergency service response times increase, public safety may be reduced. The potential impacts on health include individual stress-related medical conditions, and possibly increased injuries from depression, crime, and domestic violence. On the other hand, if the project improves the economic status of residents near the terminal and along the transport route, there could be a net decrease in social disruption and stress-related conditions.

Some of the health questions include:

What materials will be released from transport (train cars), the terminal (stock piles and conveyor systems), and the ships (diesel emissions, ballast); how can people and food sources become exposed to them; and what are the quantitative risks of exposure (by distance from source, wind and water flow, dietary and drinking water sources and consumption patterns)?

What do we know about the health effects of loss of property value? Does the increased vibration of the coal trains not only interfere with sleep, but can it result in structural damage that degrades the value of nearby property, increasing stress from the economic impact of paying for repair or living in or owning a structure with accelerated aging? Do traffic delays result in splitting communities, as new freeways did when built in developed urban areas? What are the health impacts of family or community disruption?

I am sending this to Jeff Hegedus and John Wolpers so they will have it for the Wednesday meeting. Please call if you have questions or if you want to talk more about health impact assessment.

Greg

Sandy and group,

I should have provided specific guidance on your review of the RFP's at this time. As you know, the County is a Co-Lead agency, with DOE and USACE, for the EIS review of the Gateway Pacific Terminal project. The Co-Lead Agencies will jointly reviewing and selecting the consultants. The Co-leads have developed a evaluation/ranking procedure to gather the needed amount of information to select consultants for interviews. This document is attached for reference purposes.

I have forwarded on the RFPs for your review to help scope the review of the consultants qualifications. Please review the RFP's and provide general guidance on the technical approaches that your department has interest in.

I am hoping the group will provide general input on the experiences of the personnel and technical approach of the following sections of the RFPs:

Engineering - Stormwater Treatment - Construction & post-construction, Vehicle traffic analysis
Rail transport - fugitive dust & bulk materials
Health - Air quality modeling - diesel particulate & greenhouse gas & fugitive dust, Human health analysis
PDS - Wetlands fill & mitigation Surface & subsurface hydrology
Near-shore benthic - eel grass & herring
ESA impacts to species and critical habitats - pier construction & vessel movement in marine env

I am going to schedule a meeting for Wednesday afternoon (2/29). Please call or discuss in more detail if you would like.

Tyler

I have uploaded an electronic copy of the proposals submitted to consultant on the GPT EIS preparation. I would like to schedule a meeting in a week or two to discuss the proposal and provide input on the proposals. This will help ensure we select the best one. If you could, please review the proposals and specifically the sections that your department has interest in.
The PDF copies of the proposals are in our I drive;

This is a request to: Inspect and/or

If record(s) concern individual(s) other than requestor, please state names- No others

If request is for a list of individuals , is the list to be used for commercial purposes Yes or No- Not for a list of individuals

Also I thought you were sending me a map. I haven’t received permission to provide the map. If that’s critical, I’ll keep working to get that permission. A little more detailed ‘legal description’ from me of what’s included in the property...where fairly easily summarized:
Section 17 – All quarters except the NE4
Section 18 – The eastern ¾ (i.e. the NE4, the SE4, and the E1/2 of the NW4 and SW4)
Section 19 – All areas
Section 20 – gets more complicated here...
NW4 - Entire;
SW4 - The north ½ (extends down to the Alcoa employee recreation Park)
NE4 - The majority except not immediately adjacent to Kickerville (residences and commercial operations), and not an area that includes the water well (believe owned by Alcoa)
SE4 – None of this
