FLAG SALUTE

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Weimer announced that the following three items were discussed in the Committee of the Whole meeting:

1. Discussion with Chief Civil Deputy Prosecutor Randall Watts regarding pending litigation (AB2007-017)
2. Update on open collective bargaining agreements (AB2007-207)
3. Discussion regarding the hiring process for the Council's Planning and Policy Analyst position (AB2007-017)

SPECIAL PRESENTATION

PRESENTATION BY DR. ROBERT GIBB ON THE PROPOSED CHUCKANUT PARK DISTRICT (AB2007-208)

Robert Gibb stated they are trying to save the Chuckanut Mountain range from development. The Cascade Chuckanut Conservation Plan is important. There are unique features, properties, and geologies of the Chuckanut mountain range. The environment upholds the economy of the northwest, according to one study. Tourism has brought $396 million to Whatcom County in 2005, which was a 9.5% increase over 2004. The future industry for Whatcom and Skagit counties is going to be tourism and recreation if they keep the attractions that bring folks here. Given the number of people who are predicted to come here, as tourists and as residents, that property must be protected and managed or it will be destroyed. They must save enough open space to accommodate the future population. Don't count on the federal or state governments to do this for them. They have 3,094 names on a petition to put the park district on the ballot in November.

A metropolitan park district allows multi-jurisdictions. They will partner with Skagit County. After their petition is approved, they will go through a boundary review. They

1 have been helped tremendously by the Whatcom County Prosecutor's Office with legal 2 questions. A park district involving more than one jurisdiction hasn't been done before in 3 the State of Washington. There is a lot of enthusiasm for this district. Five commissioners
4 will govern this district. People can file for these positions during this election. If the 5 proposal doesn't pass, their election is moot.
6

7 Brenner asked why Dr. Gibb is making this presentation. They are allowed to do this
8 legally. Gibb stated this presentation is for their information. The only people who will vote
9 on it are the people within the proposed district. They are asking for a $.25 levy. The law
10 allows for a levy up to $.75. The assessed value of the property in the district is $2.5
11 million. It will generate about $625,000 per year. The advisory committee recommends 12 that 80 percent of the levy collected be for acquisition, ten percent for administration, and 13 ten percent for maintenance and development. The final decision will be made by the 14 elected commissioners.
15

16 Skagit County and Lake Samish folks were concerned that the City of Bellingham
17 residents would dominate because the majority of the revenue will be collected from city
18 residents. One commissioner will represent each of the following areas: City of Bellingham, 19 unincorporated Whatcom County, and Skagit County. The other two positions will be at-20 large positions. Their biggest challenge will be finding dedicated, knowledgeable folks who 21 will spend their time and energy in managing this district, however his organization will not 22 promote one candidate over another.
23

41 42 OPEN SESSION

43
44 The following people spoke:
45

46 Frank Eventoff, Skagit County, stated the Chuckanut Mountains is unique 47 geologically. It is the only place where the Cascade Mountains meet the sea. It is the 48 home of five mountain lakes. They have an opportunity to permanently protect a reserve 49 area for passive recreation and habitat conservation based on biological, ecological, and 50 recreational values. The use of the Chuckanut mountains should not be based on private or 51 industrial profit motives. The Chuckanut Mountain Park District plans to protect existing 52 mature forests, other sensitive habitat, and associated corridors for preservation and 53 restoration, including the connection to Larrabee State Park. The Chuckanut mountains

1 represent the largest remaining mature coastal mainland forest, including old growth,
2 between Vancouver B.C. and Olympia, Washington. It is the only coastal marbled murelet
3 nesting area in the greater Puget Sound region. They will protect fish, wildlife, and habitat.
4 If kept in tact, it won't be necessary to spend taxpayer dollars to restore the damage
5 incurred from industries such as logging. There are positive economic and recreation
6 benefits for leaving the range intact.
7

8 Virginia Watson, 2729 Jensen Road, stated the temporary moratorium removing the 9 lot cluster provision from the rural forestry zone is going to expire on May 21. It should be 10 on tonight's agenda for extension. Nothing has happened in the past six months. The 11 Council should discuss and vote on this item before the elections come in November. City 12 water is now being extended to the west side of Squalicum Mountain. This is contrary to 13 State law and the County Comprehensive Plan. They prohibit urban levels of services going 14 outside an urban growth area (UGA) or into the rural areas. Councilmembers have said that 15 urban services belong in urban areas. This isn't happening. The majority of the people in 16 the county want the forest preserved and protected. They don't want residences clustered 17 all over.
18

19 Gwen Hunter, 2540 Applejack Lane, Bellingham, stated Vineyard Drive, off of 20 Academy Road, has been widened, lengthened, and paved. She is shocked by the County
21 Planning Department's determination of non-significance (DNS) for this development. The 22 developer's wetland report makes no mention of Lake Whatcom. The developer also 23 reported that stormwater runoff will infiltrate into the soil. This development includes a 24 large paved road and significant runoff that will add to urban problems that are destroying 25 the drinking water source. Nowhere on the DNS form is a question that asks about the 26 impact of a proposed development to a city drinking water supply. The questions that are 27 on the form can be answered in a way to easily skirt the issue. Instruct the Planning
28 Department to include direct questions on its DNS application form that lead to a clear
29 description of a proposals impact on Lake Whatcom or any other reservoir. In the 30 meantime, halt and review the Vineyard Drive project, which is occurring in watershed lands
31 zoned rural forestry. She submitted a copy of the DNS (on file). There are other 32 inconsistencies between the activities stated in the form and what is actually happening.
33

34 Brenner stated the County Council can't instruct the Planning Department to do 35 anything. They don't work for the Council. They are administrative, and work for the 36 Executive. She doesn't know what development Ms. Hunter is talking about.
37

38 Hal Hart, Planning and Development Services Director, stated the development is 39 Vineyard Estates. At one point, they discussed a moratorium. Many people came in with 40 exempt divisions. They cut up the property into five-acre pieces. Now, they are seeing the 41 logical outcome of dividing the area into small five-acre pieces. These are the five-acre
42 exempt lots. They are gift exemption lots.
43

44 Brenner stated this is about five-acre lots, not clusters.
45

46 Bob Hollingsworth, 1877 Academy Road, Bellingham, stated he speaks on behalf of 47 the Squalicum Valley and Academy Hill groups. He questions how they can go down to two 48 and a half lots when the maximum is three lots. He also questions how they can put in an 49 asphalt road. Growth Management does not allow District 7 to pump water up there.
50 Homes are going in up there. Deforestation is going on. Regarding global warming, they 51 must do away with deforestation. However, the developers are doing a clear cut. They are 52 making a big profit to the disadvantage of those who use Lake Whatcom for drinking water.
53

1 Brenner asked why areas zoned rural, one unit per five acres (R5A) or rural forestry
2 zones have City water. Hart stated he will have to look into the situation.

3
4 Crawford stated Water District 7 purchases 100 percent of their water supply from 5 the City of Bellingham.

6
7 Brenner stated she thought this was all about not clustering, and that people were 8 fine with the existing zoning densities. This isn't anything different from that.

9
10 Hollingsworth stated that someone has somehow made parcels that are smaller than 11 five acres.

12
13 Brenner stated she would like to know from the Planning Department how there can 14 be a two and a half acre lot in an R5A zone.

15
16 Crawford stated platting and development is happening. The DNS is for 800 cubic 17 yards of fill-and-grade for the installation of a curtain drain. This is one little component of 18 a very big project. There is much more to the story. The Planning staff can give a 19 presentation on what's happening.

20
21 Sandra Carlson, Academy Road, stated there are two developments. The cluster 22 development was the Vineyard Development on top of the mountain. This one is on the 23 west side of the mountain.

24
25 She is opposed to what's going on at Squalicum Mountain. The elected officials can't 26 seem to follow the law. The Growth Management Act was enacted to enhance, conserve,
27 and protect rural and resource lands from bad planning. Prior to the Growth Management
28 Act (GMA) Squalicum Mountain was set aside in a general protection area. After the GMA, 29 the State's mandate was to protect resource lands, not let them be whittled away, which is 30 what's happening. The GMA prohibits storm and sanitary services outside of UGA's. This 31 cluster development requires these urban services. Over 200 people have signed a petition 32 to support the halt of cluster development at the top of Squalicum Mountain. Clustering is 33 prohibited in rural resource forest land. Despite legal challenges, that has been upheld.
34 Clustering is for urban growth areas, not resource lands.

35
36 Squalicum Mountain is a highly significant recharge for Lake Whatcom. Keeping the 37 mountain rural will protect that recharge area. Act in the best interests of the majority.
38 Don't cave in to the developers. Squalicum Mountain must be preserved for the future.
39 This issue was very important to Joan Beardsley and many others in the watershed.

40
41 Dennis Jones, 1487 Sudden Valley, stated he is a parks and watershed advocate. He 42 praised Dr. Bruce Roll for putting together the plan they have. In 1992, 21 goals were 43 established for Lake Whatcom. Dr. Roll turned those goals into policies and then into tasks
44 for which they can get funding. The best way to get funding for those plans is to create a 45 district.

46
47 Ricky Bates, 5848 Bow Street, Bow, Washington, stated he just found out about the 48 proposal to create a Chuckanut Mountain Park District from a flyer in his mailbox. He is 49 appalled that they are going to have more commissioners. Much Skagit County farmland
50 will be turned into a park. No information was put out to the property owners or the 51 common citizens in the county. He is opposed to the proposal. Those in Skagit County are 52 a minority to those in Whatcom County. He is not opposed to parks. He is in favor of 53 saving Blanchard Mountain. However, he is opposed to the words imminent domain and

1 levying more taxes. Many small taxes incrementally add up to a lot. He is concerned about 2 future property values of homes in the proposed district. Everyone he knows is very
3 opposed to this. If they are going to do this, leave Skagit County out of it.
4

5 Weimer stated the County Council has no jurisdiction over this. State law allows 6 residents to set up this district by a vote of the people.
7

8 Brenner stated that Mr. Bates should talk to the people who are working on this to 9 make sure that there are protections against his concern.
10

11 Fleetwood stated that imminent domain is compensated at fair market value, not 12 assessed value.
13

14 Kurt Russo, 3963 Squalicum Lake Road, Y-Squalicum Water Association Board of 15 Directors, submitted and read from his testimony (on file) and is opposed to Squalicum
16 Mountain development.
17

18 (Clerk's Note: End of tape one, side A.)
19

20 Russo continued to read his letter into the record.
21

22 Stephanie Russo, 3963 Squalicum Lake Road, Bellingham, stated she supports her
23 neighbors and friends regarding Squalicum Mountain. She enjoyed Dr. Gibb's presentation 24 on the Chuckanut Park District. Those arguments apply to Squalicum Mountain also. They 25 are afraid that the west side of Squalicum Mountain become all homes. This county and this 26 planet need forests. Make the clustering on rural forest land moratorium permanent. Lots
27 can still be developed at a density of rural, one unit per 20 acres (R20A) and drill a well.
28 The Planning Department is not acting responsibly to the laws and the voices of the people.
29

30 Brenner stated they can't do a permanent moratorium. They can keep a moratorium
31 in effect until they figure out whether or not clustering is appropriate in forestry areas. It 32 will take a while to decide whether or not they should remove the cluster provision.
33

34 McShane stated there are significant legal processes before a permanent zoning
35 change can take effect. What is in place is not a moratorium. It's an interim zoning change
36 that had to be done as an emergency to do the process in the short-term. It has to go
37 through the Planning Commission before coming to the Council. The Council can renew it 38 every six months as long as the County can show some progress. He explained the 39 process.
40

41 Johnnie Grames, Bellingham, stated the way to effect change in a democracy is by 42 voting. The electorate must have information. He is working for free television and public 43 access so that people in the community can express themselves.
44

45 Jack Petree, 2955 Sunset, Bellingham, stated he is not for or against the Chuckanut
46 Mountain Park District proposal. The Council will receive more input and be asked to do
47 more than they expect. He has a copy of the document and will bring it to the Council.
